Investment Objectives:

The main objective of the FUND is to increase the value of the investments of the FUND’s unit holders by realizing capital gains while taking on a high level of risk. The aim of the fund is to ensure long-term growth of the investment value through capital gains with high risk. The fund seeks to actively participate in IPO transactions. The FUND’s participation in IPO deals in different countries in the CEE region and beyond is at the discretion of the Management Company. The FUND strives to achieve an optimal balance between risk and return, and the portfolio structure will be adjusted depending on market conditions. To ensure liquidity, the FUND’s portfolio may include cash. The Fund manages risk by diversifying its assets. There is no guarantee that “ADVANCE OPPORTUNITIES IN NEW EUROPE” will achieve its investment goals. The fund does not aim to achieve results tied to a specific market index. The fund will not distribute income (annual profit) on the issued units and will not pay such income or dividends to unit holders but will reinvest the income in assets in accordance with its investment strategy and policy. INTENDED RETAIL INVESTOR

The investment policy of "Advance Emerging Europe Opportunities" MF presupposes investing predominantly in shares of leading companies in the emerging markets of Central and Eastern Europe. This means that the Fund will aim to achieve superior results by assuming high risk. In addition, developing markets carry relatively higher risk. For this reason, "Karoll Capital Management" EAD deems the Fund to be suitable for investors seeking high long-term returns and willing to accept considerable short-term price fluctuations. The Fund is suitable for investors with basic knowledge of and some degree of experience with financial products, who are aware that they might incur a loss of investment. In order to reduce the risk of short-term price fluctuations "Karoll Capital Management" EAD recommends a holding period of 3 years or longer to the investors in the Fund.

WHAT ARE THE RISKS AND WHAT COULD I GET IN RETURN?

Summary risk indicator (SRI)

The risk indicator is based on the assumption that investment in the product is maintained for 3 years. The actual risk can vary substantially if you exit early, and the return can be lower as well.

The SRI is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of market dynamics, or because we may not be able to pay out. We have classified this product as 4 out of 7 which is a medium risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium level and poor market conditions could impact our capacity to pay you.

The lowest category does not represent a riskless investment. This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment. If we are not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment. The units and their return can decrease in value, profit is not guaranteed and investors carry the risk of not being able to recover the full amount of their investments.

Be aware that there is currency risk. You will receive payments in a different currency, as a result of which the final return will depend on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not included in the above indicator.

Significant risks not covered by the SRI are interest, liquidity, credit, operational and settlement risk, legal risk, concentration risk and the risk of physical interference.

The amounts given are for illustration purposes and are calculated based on an example investment amount and different possible investment periods. We have assumed:

- in the first year you would get back the invested amount (0% annual return); for the following holding periods we have assumed that the product results are as given under the moderate scenario

HOW LONG SHOULD I HOLD THE INVESTMENT AND CAN I TAKE MONEY OUT EARLY?

The recommended holding period for the investment is 3 years. Investments for periods longer than 3 years in practice are considered long-term. Long-term investment horizon for risk assets leads to lower volatility of returns. With longer holding periods there is higher chance for investments to generate positive return, thus compensating for the short-term risks. The investment can be redeemed at any time without any penalty fees even before the end of the recommended holding period.
